DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

Claims 6-15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the enablement requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to enable one skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and/or use the invention. The specification is not enabling with respect to the independent claims 6 and 11. The specification discloses in page 10, lines 5-12 that the “interconnecting portions” have a smaller diameter than the diameter of pores. However, independent claims 6 and 11 discloses interconnecting portions having a diameter (100 μm) bigger than the porous body having a diameter ranging from 0.01 μm to 2000 μm .

Note: the diameter of 100 μm is larger than the range between 0.01 μm to 99 μm of the porous body. See also diameter “B” and “C” in claims 6 and 11.

Does the interconnecting portions are always larger than the porous body in a total volume of the artificial bone?

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 6-15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Art Unit: 3738

In claim 6, lines 7-9 are not clearly understood. The Examiner does not understand the relationship between the percentage and the total volume A.

In claim 11, lines 8-10 are not clearly understood. The Examiner does not understand the relationship between the percentage and the total volume A.

The above criticisms are not exhaustive. Applicant should carefully revise the claims.
